President Of Guatemala Is Assassinated

By RICHARD G. MASSOCK

GUATEMALA — President Carlos Castillo Armas was shot dead by a palace guard last night. Unofficial reports said the soldier who assassinated the anti-Communist leader took his own life with the rifle he used to slay the President.

Castillo Armas, 43, overthrew the Communist-supported regime of Jacobo Arbenz Guzman in 10 days of military revolt in June 1954.

Brake Red Grip

The scrappy Guatemalan leader, an army colonel, forced out of office a government in which Communists wielded their greatest influence in the history of Central America.

He became the country's president and in 1955 paid a state visit to Washington where he talked with President Eisenhower.

There had been several plots reported against his regime, allegedly masterminded by Guatemalans living abroad. Arbenz himself is in exile in Europe. But Castillo Armas said last November that such attempts were "of no importance" and that the country's economic and political foundations were sound.

Report 422 Dead In Japan Flood

TOKYO — Flood waters began, receding slowly today on ravaged Kyushu Island where 422 persons were listed as dead in the wake of a 24-hour storm that brought 32 inches of rain.

Authorities listed 3,626 injured and 294 missing as rescue teams scanned the flood-washed triangle between Ishikawa, Omura and Nagasaki where 100,000 persons have been left homeless.

The Japanese cabinet invoked the disaster relief law as American and Japanese agencies rushed emergency supplies to the devastated area.

No American civilians or military personnel were known to be among the victims.

Water still stood almost three feet deep in cities of Omura and Ishikawa, hampering the efforts of search teams probing through the debris.

Children at the E. Stevens St. playground were hosts to the youngsters of the Fourth St. Playground Friday in one of the many activities held on the six playgrounds of the community this week as part of the Gettysburg Recreation Association's summer program.

Miss Anne Fortenbaugh reported relay races and games were featured at the visit by the "Fourth Streeters" to E. Stevens St. Prize winners were Katie Ritter, David Staub, Susan Shriver and Breaux Linn.

The E. Stevens St. youngsters — attendance there totaled 90 during the week — constructed Japanese lanterns, made "get well" cards for member Myra Gridley, and made hats, with judging of hats on "Circus Day" Thursday leading to awards to Katie Ritter and Roger Heller.

Plan Playground

Ruritan Lieutenant Governor Herbert Blye, first president of the Ruritan Club at Hunterstown, spoke briefly to the crowd of nearly 150 persons that witnessed the scout ceremony. He reviewed the club achievements in community work and said a playground for the children of the town is being planned by the club. There had been a brief discussion of the stalled disarmament discussions.

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty said there was no "emergency" involved but the President felt that Dulles, by making a personal review of all the problems now under discussion, would get a better picture of the situation than by relying on exchanges of cablegrams.

Protectory Host To Benefactors

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower today ordered Secretary of State Dulles to go to London tomorrow to give his personal attention to the stalled disarmament discussions.

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty said there was no "emergency" involved but the President felt that Dulles, by making a personal review of all the problems now under discussion, would get a better picture of the situation than by relying on exchanges of cablegrams.

President Dulles is to go to London to attend the annual family picnic of the Hunterstown Ruritan Club.

Advancements were announced by Scoutmaster Monroe Miller and his assistant, Adolphus Walker Jr.

SAYS JURY TRIAL PROPOSALS ARE "SMOKESCREEN"

By JOHN CHADWICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.) today denounced jury trial proposals, a crucial issue in the battle over the civil rights bill, as "a deliberate, pre-meditated, cleverly concealed smokescreen."

A leader of Northern Democratic senators working with administration forces to prevent further weakening of the House-passed bill Humphrey said the latest jury trial amendment just added to the "confusion."

The amendment, offered by Sens. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.), Kefauver (D-Tenn.) and Church (D-Idaho), would write new federal law governing contempt of court proceedings in all kinds of cases — civil rights, labor or anything else.

Congratulated By Russell

Under it, defendants in criminal contempt proceedings, to punish a person for willful disobedience of a court order, would be entitled to trial by jury.

Civil contempt cases, designed to secure compliance with an injunction or other court order but not to punish, would be handled by a judge without a jury.

Sen. Russell (D-Ga.), leader of the Dixie forces fighting the administration measure, promptly congratulated the three senators entitled to trial by jury.

He said after an earlier meeting of 16 Southern senators that they would resort to "every means" at their command to try to defeat the bill unless a jury trial amendment is adopted.

At Little Rock, Ark., last night, Sen. McClellan (D-Ark.) said in a speech that if the civil rights bill is approved with a provision barring jury trial in certain cases he would offer an amendment to extend that provision to the Smith anti-subversive act.

If abolition of the jury trial is necessary against a Southerner for alleged violation of civil rights McClellan said, "then the same law should be made to apply to the Communist conspiracy."

Standing Firm

In the face of Russell's obvious threat of a filibuster, Senate Republican Leader Knowland of California said President Eisenhower and the administration were standing firm against a jury trial amendment.

Humphrey and Northern Democrats allied with him said they were standing firm also.

The bill would empower the attorney general to obtain federal court injunctions against violations of voting rights. Persons accused of disobeying the court orders could be jailed for contempt without a jury trial.

Earlier Major Defeat

The Senate earlier in the week, in a major defeat for the bill's supporters, struck out by a 52-38 vote another section providing similar procedure for the enforcement of civil rights generally.

Both O'Mahoney and Kefauver previously had offered separate but similar amendments providing for jury trials in criminal contempt proceedings growing out of the issuance of injunctions to enforce the bill's right-to-vote section.

Their new amendment, in which Church joined as a sponsor, goes beyond this in that it would have "universal application" in all contempt proceedings, not just in cases involving voting rights.

Pleads Guilty To Fraud And Is Jailed

Daniel L. Coleman, Wilkes-Barre, charged with defrauding the state of $570 by violating the unemployment compensation law, was re-committed to the Adams County jail Friday after a hearing before Justice of the Peace John H. Baschore.

Coleman, who will appear in sentence court, was jailed in default of $1,000 bail after pleading guilty. He is charged with illegally receiving aid from December 14, 1955, until April 18, 1956, after he was employed by the Dorsey-Stanton American Legion Post on W. High St. The complaint was filed by the Pennsylvania Bureau of Employment Security.

FIND BODY OF MAN BLOWN FROM PLANE

VICTORVILLE, Calif. (AP) — The Federal Bureau of Investigation said today that an unexploded blasting cap was found in the airliner damaged early Thursday on a flight to Los Angeles.

Evidence found indicates that "a small explosion may have occurred," said the FBI statement.

VICTORVILLE, Calif. (AP) — The badly mangled body of a passenger hurled through the side of an airliner in a mysterious explosion has been found on a jagged, lava-strewn hill in the Mojave desert.

And officials say they still don't know what caused the blast.

Ground searchers yesterday came upon Saul F. Binstock, 62, a retired jeweler from North Hollywood, Calif., as they followed a trail of airplane fragments in the Ord mountains about 50 miles northeast of here.

There was nothing on the body or in his clothes to indicate what caused the explosion, one official said. An autopsy has been ordered.

Was In Washroom

The blast ripped open the side of a Western Airlines twin-engine Convair early Thursday morning as it winged between Las Vegas, Nev., and Los Angeles at 10,000 feet.

Binstock, who was in the plane washroom, disappeared.

The Convair made an emergency landing at an Air Force base.

The plane's other 12 passengers and crew of three were uninjured. Before leaving Los Angeles for Las Vegas Wednesday night Binstock purchased $125,000 worth of round-trip flight insurance.

FORGES CHECKS TWICE; JAILED

ROCKY MOUNT, N.C. (AP) — Police Chief J. I. Nichols says persistent put James Junior Jones, 24, Enfield Negro, in jail on charges of forging and cashing two checks — one for $245.29 and one for $268.79.

Nichols said Jones broke into Clay's Transfer Co. Wednesday night, stole nine personal checks and filled them out on a check writer machine.

But when he tried to cash one check Thursday morning, he was told it was filled out incorrectly, Nichols said.

Jones went back to the transfer office Thursday night and this time filled the checks out correctly, the chief said.

When he reappeared at the bank Friday, a teller became suspicious and notified police.

New Oxford Firm Sues For $4,500

Alwine Brick Company, New Oxford, Friday filed suit in York County to collect $4,500 from Penn-Mar Supply Company, Hanover, which the plaintiff alleges is an unpaid balance on a bill for purchase of bricks.

The complaint says the plaintiff last year accepted as "conditional payment" for the defendant a $4,500 promissory note of O. H. Hostetter, Builder, Inc.

The note was later discounted at Farmer's and Merchant's Bank, New Oxford, by the plaintiff who received cash for it. But the plaintiff had to pay back the note when Hostetter went into bankruptcy and was unable to meet the payment, the complaint states.

The plaintiff now seeks to recover the $4,500 from Penn-Mar.

"YOU WILL FIND HIM"

You will find Him in the sun... that gives color to the dawn... in sweet flowers kissed with dewdrops... in their fragrance He lives on... He is in the earth around you... in the stars that roam the sky... He is in His faith and hope unending... to all eyes with tears to cry... He is near to saint and sinner... part of joy and part of pain... doing all things for a reason... often so hard to explain... He is very close to children... matters not how young or old... for to Him we are all children... part of His eternal fold... champion of peaceful living... using war's dreadful dismay... to teach mankind love's value... and to show the righteous way... but when the cup of life is filled... with sadness to the brim... reach down inside your aching heart... and there you will find Him.

WANT FURTHER PROBE OF UNION FUNDS' ABUSES

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate racks probers today asked the Justice Department and the Internal Revenue Service to look into the activities of the top two officials of the United Textile Workers Union (UTW).

The special Senate Committee headed by Sen. McClellan (D-Ark.) wound up its investigation yesterday with demands by a committed member that UTW President Anthony Valente and Secretary-Treasurer Lloyd Klenert resign.

The committee had heard testimony that Valente and Klenert diverted $128,405 in union funds to their own personal uses over a period of years since 1952, and that Klenert had even charged the UTW $5.50 for a milk stool, $25.20 for a corkscrew, $2,564.65 for tickets to the Broadway stage hit "My Fair Lady," and for costly Bermuda, Florida and Maine vacations for his family.

McClellan authorized a statement that he was sending the stenographic record of the testimony to the Justice Department and Internal Revenue Service for further investigation.

Klenert said he does not know whether he paid income taxes on $101,963 the committee accused him of diverting from his union's treasury. It accused Valente of using $26,442 in UTW funds.

The program for this summer will conclude at the end of next week. The activities tentatively planned for next week include: Monday, paper carnations will be made by all the children, as well as string and cord bracelets and necklaces. Puzzles-wuzzles will be made on Tuesday, and book markers from construction paper. A treasure hunt will be featured on Wednesday, and the boys and girls will be taught to make crowns of laurel and jar top pictures. The children are requested to bring their own jar tops and rubbers.

Thursday has been set aside for making pie tin rhythm instruments, and each child will provide his own aluminum foil pie tins, thread and needle. Metal ball holders will also be constructed from pine ice cream containers or cottage cheese boxes, to be brought to the playgrounds by the boys and girls. Children wishing to make a ring-the-clothespin game should bring a jar ring and clothespin. The program for Friday, the final day, will be announced later.

"IMPOLITE" ARCHITECT IS FINED $5

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — An architect was hauled before a magistrate yesterday for being, as his attorney put it, "not polite" to a policeman.

The breach of etiquette landed both architect, Briton Martin, and policeman, Richard Urban, in the hospital for treatment of wounds.

Urban explained to Magistrate James T. Donnelly that he was making his early morning rounds when he found a door open in a building where Martin has a second-floor office.

Then He Kicked Officer

Urban entered and, seeing a light and hearing sounds upstairs, called out:

"Who's there."

"Who cares," was the reply. Urban went up and confronted an unfriendly Martin, he said, who refused to identify himself. Then, said the patrolman, who was uniformed, Martin kicked him and he had to use "reasonable force" (a blackjack) to subdue the man.

Magistrate Donnelly fined the architect $5 plus $2.50 costs for disorderly conduct.

House Approves Cemetery-Park
Land Exchange: Washington D.C., July 26 (P) — In one of the last legislative acts before Congressional adjournment the House approved a bill sponsored by Representative Chester H. Gross of the Adams-Franklin district, York, providing for an exchange of land between the federal government and the Evergreen Cemetery association at Gettysburg.

Under the terms of the bill approximately four acres of private land within the Gettysburg National Military Park would be conveyed to the United States in exchange for federal property consisting of a right of way that bisects property owned by the Evergreen Cemetery association and embraces approximately one and one-quarter acre.

Today's Talk*BOOKS OF FICTION

It would be difficult to estimate the power and influence of books of fiction. Year by year the number grows, but there remains but a small percentage that really go on living and influencing thousands of lives. Books like "War and Peace," by Tolstoy; "Les Misérables," by Victor Hugo, and all of the books by Dickens.

Great writers create their characters but they borrow the life from people that they know, and that they imagine they know. Many write so accurately and true to life that their characters live and stay with a reader. They are like friends who never die! A friend of mine told me Hugo's "Les Misérables" had changed his entire life.

The reading of "Don Quixote," by Cervantes, in one's youth, reads differently and perhaps more amusingly, in later life. It still lives as one of the great books of the world. "Green Mansions," by W. H. Hudson, the naturalist, will always be welcome for its beauty of expression, and its story of nature, and the character of the bird-woman, Rima.

A great favorite of mine is Mary Webb, who wrote books embodying nature that will never go out of fashion for those who love really great literature. Stephen Crane wrote a book about a boy in war that is a classic, though he had never been in a war when it was written. He was at the time of writing but a boy in his early twenties!

People made real, is an art, and those writers who write books about them live long into posterity.

Christopher Morley, who recently died, left at least one book that will yet delight millions. It is called "Parnassus on Wheels."

No one loved books more or could write so fascinatingly about the man as Morley. His memory is blessed.

In St. Louis, fourteen-year-old Leo Kuntz dived for a coin in a local swimming pool, came up with a fifty-cent piece and swallowed it before he could get it out of his mouth. Choking, he was loaded into an ambulance where attendants worked to keep him alive during the speedy ride to St. Louis County Hospital. The combination of high speed and a sturdy bump at the intersection of Weber Road and the Frisco Railway solved the problem. The bump pushed the coin into Leo's stomach, probably saving his life.

In Verona, Italy, a small boy picked a summer's morning to play a long cane pole and a can of worms and go fishing in a quiet pool beside the railroad tracks. In due course, he felt a nibble on his line and yanked. There was a fish on his line, all right, and it landed on a nearby power line along which the trolleys of electric trains operate. Just at that moment, a train arrived also its trolley hit the fish, there was a bright flash and the circuits shorted out. It was half an hour later before the Verona-Bologna-Rome express got rolling again.

In San Mateo, Calif., a lady motorist, out for a drive on a summer afternoon, stepped on the gas instead of the brake. Her automobile leaped, lurched and finally stalled on the main line of the Southern Pacific. Hearing a train approaching, the lady tried to jump from the car, but bumped her head and fell in a faint on the tracks. Two horrified policemen saw the accident and rushed onto

It would be difficult to estimate the tracks in a desperate effort to flag down the onrushing train. It roared right past—an adjoining track. By this time the lady had recovered from her faint but asked to be taken to a hospital for treatment of shock.

Near Flemington, N.J., a Lehigh Valley diesel-powered freight train made a sudden and unscheduled stop and for a very basic reason—the locomotive had run out of gas. While the embarrassed crew looked on, a truck from a Flemington fuel dealer got the train moving again by delivering 200 gallons of diesel oil.

In Grand Prairie, Tex., A. J. Seeter was thrown unhurt from his automobile when he collided with another car. Then, sitting dazed and shaken on the pavement after the crash, he watched his own driverless car move on down the street, then turn onto the Texas and Pacific Railway's main line. Seconds later, the car crashed head-on into a T&P freight train and was demolished.

All Top Teams In Sizzling NL Race Win In Extra Inning Games Excepting Brooklyn

By ED WILKS

The Associated Press
For the moment, anyway, it looks as if all the contenders in that fantastic National League pennant race are a bunch of "old pros." All, that is, except the Old Pros themselves — Brooklyn's Dodgers.

Milwaukee, St. Louis, Cincinnati and Philadelphia all came through in the clutch as the battle rolled through four extra-inning games yesterday while the Brooks, taking their lumps away from chummy Ebbets Field, fell short and skidded to fourth with their third defeat in a row.

The Braves had to win to hold the lead, and they did — beating New York's Giants 6-3 on an 11-inning, three-run homer by Nippy Jones.

Redlegs Beat Dodgers

The Cardinals had to win to stay within three percentage points of Milwaukee, and they did — defeating Pittsburgh 4-3 as Al Dark singled with the bases loaded in the 10th.

The Redlegs had to win to stay only a game off the pace, and they did — blowing a 5-1 lead as the Dodgers gave it the big try, but coming back to win 6-5 in 11 innings on a two-out single by Johnny Temple.

And the Phillies, scrambling to stay alive, turned on the juice in the 10th to pick up two unearned runs that beat Chicago's Cubs 3-1, leaving the fifth-place Phil just a half game behind Brooklyn.

Al Race Picks Up

The American League race showed signs of coming alive, too, what with Jim Bunning two-hitting New York for a 3-2 Detroit victory. The Yankees have lost three in a row and five of seven to lead Chicago by three games. The White Sox, after losing 5-2 at Baltimore, came back to win the second game of a twi-night doubleheader 1-0 on the two-hit pitching of Jim Wilson and Billy Pierce who made his second relief appearance to save it.

Boston walloped Cleveland 10-1, with Ted Williams taking an undisputed hold on the batting lead again and Washington beat Kansas City 3-2.

The Braves, after losing two in a row to the Phillies, got back to business with a bunt by Del Crandall, a sacrifice and an intentional walk to Andy Pafko. Then along came Jones, the ex-C cardinal, back to the majors as a first base reserve after Joe Adcock broke a leg, walked one of reliever Stu Miller's soft pitches to bust it up.

Win For Conley

Gene Conley won it with a perfect three-inning relief job after Lew Burdette had been smacked for three home runs, by Hank Sauer, starting pitcher Ruben Gomez and Ed Bressoud. The Braves tied the Giants with two runs in the seventh as Red Schoendienst pushed his hit streak to 23 games with an RBI double and scored on a single by Frank Torre.

Willard Schmidt won his ninth in a row for a 9-1 record, coming on in relief of Lindy McDaniel after the Cards had tied the Bucs 3-all in the fifth inning on home runs by Ken Boyer and Don Blasingame. A pair of walks and a bunt loaded the bases for Dark in the 10th against reliever Ron Kline, who lost his seventh in a row for a 2-15 record.

Cincinnati matched the Cards with three in a row as relief winner Hersh Freeman doubled with two out in the 11th against reliever Roger Craig, then sprinted home on Temple's hit. Ed Bailey's 15th homer had triggered a five-run fifth for the Redlegs against Sandy Koufax, but the Brooks battled back on Elmer Valo's two-run pinch homer in the eighth and

MIDGET AUTO RACES SUNDAY

WILLIAMS GROVE — National championship midget auto racing comes to the William Grove Speedway Sunday afternoon starting at 1 p.m. which will be climaxed with the running of the 100-lap feature grind testing the skill and stamina of man and machine.

Designated as "checkered Flag Fan Club Day," the program is attracting a field of over 30 top chauffeurs of the "mighty midgets" who will go all-out to earn a large slice of the purse being put up by Owner Roy Richwine.

Among the top drivers will be Indianapolis veteran Eddie Sachs, of Center Valley, Pa., a top competitor in the recent 500-mile race in Monza, Italy. Sachs joins a field which will include the winners of the four midget sprint races staged on the oval so far this season, namely:

George Fonder, Lansdale, Pa.; Bert Brooks, Paterson, N.J.; Johnna Mann, Brooklyn, N.Y., and Ernie McCoy, Reading.

In addition to Sachs, other new faces in the line-up for the century grind will include: Gays Birn, Peninsula, O., rim-riders from the Midwest; Stevens and Bruder, Philadelphia; Robert R. Nathan, Associates, Inc., Washington, and Pre-lead Co., Inc., New York.

Injured Boxer Takes "Turn For Worse"

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Binghamton again stands beaming from the Eastern League's top spot.

Schenectady dropped out of first place last night via their 6-5 loss at Allentown and the Triplets' 10-1 triumph at Springfield.

In the other game, Bill Slack came on in the eighth inning at Reading and quelled an Indian uprising as the Albany Senators won 6-5.

Jim Bronstad pitched a two-hitter for Binghamton and now is the league's winningest hurler with 13 victories. He has lost five.

Binghamton banged 15 hits off three Springfield hurlers. Starter Vic Vincent was chased by Frank Leja's three-run Homer in the sixth.

The basement-dwelling Chiefs moved over their winning run in the extra inning as the Jays came up with an error of commission and then omission that permitted Jim Kirby to score.

PATTERSON ENDS TRAINING FOR JACKSON BOUT

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP)—Heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson is finished with heavy training and waiting for the bell to send him after Tommy "Hurricane" Jackson on Monday night's title match at the Polo Grounds.

After 130 rounds of boxing at his Green Lake, N.Y. camp, the champ's manager, Gus D'Amato, called Floyd "a better fighter than he was the night he knocked out Archie Moore."

"He is ready to go 15 rounds, if necessary, and he is hitting hard enough to finish his man if he gets the opportunity," said D'Amato.

Will Keep Word

Jackson wound up his pre-fight boxing today at his remote camp in Columbia, N.Y. Before he started he told newsmen he expected to give Patterson such a beating that he wouldn't be interested in any September rematch.

"But I'll go through with it, if they want to," said Jackson. "I never went back on my word in my life."

While the boxers reached the end of their long training grinds, promoter Emil Lence reported an upsurge of interest in the 15-round match. Lence reported an advance sale of over $125,000. He predicted a gate of "over $300,000" and about 25,000 customers.

Patterson Favored

Patterson gets a $175,000 guarantee or 40 per cent of the net and radio-TV cash. Jackson gets 20 per cent.

Patterson still was a lopsided 5 to 1 favorite to win and they were quoting an 8 to 5 price that he would stop the Hurricane for the second time in his career. Jackson lost a split decision after a 12-round elimination match with Patterson, June 8, 1956.

Both fighters break camp Sunday. Patterson expected to come at 184 pounds, heaviest of his career, and Jackson probably will weigh about 194 pounds.

In the other game, Bill Slack came on in the eighth inning at Reading and quelled an Indian uprising as the Albany Senators won 6-5.

Dr. Joseph Hahn said the Holy boxer had taken a "turn for the worse" and was hemorrhaging. An operation may be necessary, he said but a decision will not be made before early next week.

Couches collapsed in his corner after the eighth round of a bout with Bobby Bell, Youngstown, Ohio in New York last month. Bell won a technical knockout.

ON THE HOUSE

By ANDREW C. LANG

The Associated Press
Some time ago we wrote a brief item on the effect of adequate insulation on the cost of air conditioning a home.

The questions have been coming in ever since. Some persons asked them immediately. Others apparently saved the clippings and sent along the queries when they were ready to do something about getting their houses ready for the sweltering days of July and August.

In any case, we decided to ask some questions on our own. We contacted the engineers of four major concerns which have something to do in one way or another, with keeping homes cool. We asked them to pass along any information on cooling that might be of interest and value to the home owner. Here are some of their replies:

Insulation Helps

A . . . "Air conditioning costs can be cut considerably by the use of maximum insulation; adequate attic ventilation; shading where needed by trees, trellises, roof overhang and heat repellent screening; and wherever possible, a house design in which large glass areas face north and south. We call these comfort-engineering principles and have tested them in more than 100 houses in 29 states."

B . . . "Where there is thick insulation and a simple air circulation system, a single 3/4-ton or one-ton room air conditioner can cool a house of about 1,000 square feet of living area. To cool an entire house this way, the cool air in the room where the unit is installed must be circulated to other

Do's and Don'ts

DON'T . . . forget that the above instructions are for restoring a shellac finish and not for a complete refinishing, which is necessary if the old surface is cracked or chipped.

DON'T . . . wash a shellac finish with either water, which may turn it white, or alcohol, which will soften it.

DON'T . . . use shellac which has been around the house for a year or two, as it deteriorates with age, even when you think the container is completely sealed.

DON'T . . . apply shellac to wood that is damp or when it is raining or when the humidity is very high.

DO . . . be sure that all material being drilled is anchored firmly, using an awl, punch or nail to make a starting hole for the bit.

DO . . . back all thin material with a wood block to avoid distorting the work, spoiling the accuracy and perhaps breaking the bit.

DO . . . use turpentine or kerosene as a lubricant when drilling into heavy metal especially hardened steel.

Rooms. This can be done with a wall vent grille or two, a wall fan and a kitchen exhaust fan."

C . . . "Many people get the biggest air conditioner they can find to make sure they stay cool no matter how hot it gets. But this is almost as bad as getting a unit that's too small. An oversize unit cools too rapidly, resulting in uneven temperature-humidity balance."

Exhaust Fan

D . . . "An exhaust fan to cool the attic and lower the temperature throughout the house should be centrally located (such as the second-floor ceiling of a two-story dwelling) where the flow of air is unrestricted. The fan capacity will be greatly reduced if the location is too close to a wall or in a corner."

The comfort-engineering principles mentioned in A are equally important in keeping down heating costs. The tests indicated that, when these principles were followed, an average house of 1,200 square feet can be both heated and cooled for $10 a month. When Robert Thulman, a former official of the United States Housing and Home Finance Agency, made an estimate along that line last October, there were quite a few raised eyebrows.

Other factors in making a house "heat-tight" are careful caulking, good weatherstripping and, where the section of the country calls for it, storm windows.

The officer said that 10 minutes later Tubbs came by and spun his wheels so that gravel flew over a 20 to 25 foot area pelting Standridge.

They have looked beyond the first cost of a portable irrigation system and see that they are independent of the weather. They see portable irrigation as a tool . . . like a tractor or a plow. And they use portable irrigation regularly to apply just the right amount of water, fertilizer, insecticides and weed killers. They apply them WHEN and WHERE they want them.

It is easier to own a portable system than you might think. Why not call or stop in today. Let us show you complete systems engineered to your needs. We stock all parts and light, strong Alcoa Aluminum Pipe.

It's Not Too Late To Plant Vegetables To Keep Gardens Working Until Frosts Come

By FRANK ZETTEL

Adams County Farm Agent
July is still planting season for Pennsylvania home gardeners. You can keep your garden working full time until frost. In Adams County you can still put in a midseason variety of sweet corn and green beans, but it's probably too late for those in northern Pennsylvania. However, in any part of the state you can still plant root crops, and leafy vegetables such as lettuce, endive, spinach, cabbage, and Chinese cabbage.

Carrots will make a crop if planted soon. The seeds germinate slowly so the rows should be marked by mixing a few radish seeds with the carrots. The sprouting radishes will designate the rows and prevent damage when you run the wheel hoe through the garden. Don't sow too many radish seeds as markers or the carrots will have too much competition.

Chinese cabbage is a good fall crop too. If it's harvested before freezing weather, it will keep a month or two in a vegetable cellar.

Endive and kale are excellent greens or salad ingredients. Tie endive leaves together in mid-October so the centers will bleach for several weeks.

You can leave kale in the garden all winter if you protect it from rabbits; they appreciate its store of vitamins, too!

Keep Concrete Moist In Summer

Unsatisfactory results from concrete placed during hot, dry weather are usually due to failure to keep the concrete moist during its chemical curing period.

The curing of concrete is a chemical reaction that extends over a considerable period of time. The first set takes place normally in a few hours, but too fast drying during that time can cause the surface to dry sufficiently to stop chemical action and result in crumbling and severe dusting of the surface. Concrete does not reach its full strength possibilities under three or four weeks of curing conditions.

Concrete needs to be kept moist of this time, especially during the first week of curing, to insure the strongest and most satisfactory concrete.

The simplest means of keeping flat concrete surfaces moist to insure a slow even cure is to cover the concrete with straw, sand, or sawdust. Keep the covering material wetted down by sprinkling with a hose periodically. Another method of curing is to use a commercial curing compound which is sprayed over the concrete surface after

Do's and Don'ts

The Associated Press
GYPSUM WALLBOARD

DO . . . know that, while gypsum wallboard is known by a variety of names, it's the material you want if it's prefabricated plaster covered on both sides with a touch paper.

DO . . . cut gypsum wallboard by placing it on a horizontal surface, scribing a line with a sharp knife, then snapping down the overhanging part much as you do when breaking glass along a scored line.

DO . . . in nailing panels to studs, leave a small space between them and fill that space with perforated tape and cement made especially for the purpose.

DO . . . when the cement has dried, sandpaper all rough spots before painting or applying wallpaper.

DON'T . . . make the common mistake of applying too much cement between the joints; it should be put on carefully in thin coats, so that the surface is built up gradually.

DON'T . . . use a nailset to drive nails below the surface of the wallboard. Allow the hammer head to make dimples in the board, which can be smoothed level with the troweling. The curing compounds seal the surface of the concrete and slow down the rate at which moisture can leave the concrete. There are other methods of curing concrete, but the important thing is to slow down the rate at which moisture leaves the concrete to insure a slow even cure.

Another important point to remember with new concrete is that excessive troweling at the finish or the use of too much cement is likely to cause contraction cracks.

Skip Additives In Tractor Fuel

Putting additives with the fuel or oil of your tractor motor doesn't do very much harm but it doesn't do much good either.

Tests conducted by the U. S. Bureau of Standards on more than 150 different fuel and oil additives showed that none of them made any important improvement in engine performance. Some actually cost unnecessary expense.

Some of the additives upset the chemical balance in motor oils and may cause serious lubricating problems. High-quality modern motor oils are balanced chemically and will do all the things that makers of oil additives claim that their product will do.

Most additives are made up primarily from light lubricating oils. In an emergency, when a valve begins to stick or similar trouble arises a fuel or oil additive may be used to advantage.

Don't use any additive if you're not having these troubles. If these troubles persist have the motor checked by a reliable mechanic, and correct the source of the trouble.

The Weeders Guide

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

CHAPPAQUA, N. Y. (AP) — Prime time for the sale of gardening equipment, from tractors to seed, is the spring when the outdoor urge is upon the nation's millions of gardeners. From now on, however, some of the gardening essentials can frequently be picked up as bargains.

One of the largest investments the average homeowner makes in the way of equipment is a power mower — an item which has dropped considerably in price during the last decade while sales have increased 30 times to about three million a year. If you are in the market for a power mower, give the matter more than casual thought.

SPECIAL CARE
First decide whether you need a rotary type mower — which can cut weeds and high grass, and has a mulching attachment — or a reel type, which cuts like the conventional hand-pushed mower. Reel mowers barter an established lawn smoothly, and they can hold a grass catcher. Recent tests of the two by one research outfit indicate however, that a sharp, well-adjusted rotary mower cuts as well as a reel type.

Those who decide in favor of a rotary mower — and today they are more popular than the reel-type — must treat them with the special care given a power tool. Unless one is careful — as one should be with all power tools — mishaps can happen, particularly from the way the whirling blades can pick up a stone from the ground and hurl it.

In working on any power mower, always disconnect the spark plug wire, making certain it cannot touch the spark plug. Then it will be impossible for the motor to start up. And never, of course, touch the spark plug of a running mower: it carries a nasty shock.

Hazard To Children

Keep hands and feet away from the mower's blades. Wait until the motor has cooled before adding fuel. If you have an electric mower, be sure the grass is dry before you go to work. (Never cut wet grass, anyway, it's bad for the lawn.)

Most important, keep children away from mowers; better still, the mowing area. Certainly do not permit a child to use one. Never invite trouble by leaving a running mower unattended, even for a few seconds.

In the event you have a mower which could pick up and hurl a stone, treat it like a loaded gun. If there are stones in the grass, rake the area free before mowing.

Finally, make certain the operator of the mower understands how to use the machine, double checks to see the clutch is disengaged when starting the motor, and that, in the self-propelled models, the foot of the operator holds the machine down firmly when using the starter.

All mowers, even the hand-pushed kind, require attention: sharpening, oiling and cleaning. There is no reason to worry about accidents if the operator uses sense and precautions. And power mowers certainly are a boon to the busy week-end lawkeeper.

DON'T . . . try to maneuver large panels of wallboard for use on ceiling unless (1) you have someone to help you or (2) you have a special jig which will hold the material in place while you attach it.

Cooking Is Fun

By Cecily Brownstone

Even the most fervent of hamburger addicts have been known to welcome that perennial dish prepared a new way. So whether you cook your summer burgers indoors or out, here's a suggestion.

We are of the school of thought that believes hamburger should be charred on the outside, pink and juicy inside. To achieve this state, we cook the hamburgers as rapidly as possible in the beginning, then turn down the heat to let the inside change gradually from blue-red to rose-pink. If you're using your kitchen range, a heavy iron skillet will be fine for this method.

Mushroomburgers
Ingredients: 1/2 pound mushrooms

roofins, 1 small onion, 1/4 cup butter or margarine, 1 1/2 pounds ground lean beef, 1 1/2 teaspoons salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 3 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce.

Method: Rinse mushrooms in cold water and dry on a towel; slice very thin. Peel and chop onion fine. Melt butter in a skillet (9 or 10 inches) and add mushrooms and onion. Cook over moderately low heat, stirring often, until wilted — about 10 minutes. Mix ground beef with cooked mushrooms and onion, salt, pepper and Worcestershire sauce. Shape into 6 patties. Cook to desired doneness. Makes 6 servings.

Note: Canned shoestring potatoes make a good accompaniment for these mushroomburgers; be sure to heat the potatoes before serving. Pan-fried or broiled tomato halves will also be attractive with the burgers. You might like to try seasoning the tomatoes with a little sugar and curry powder.

AN ACE THAT DIDN'T COUNT
RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Mrs. Clara Priddy, of Richmond, has been playing golf for more than 30 years and was Virginia state women's champion in 1930 but until this spring she'd never made a hole-in-one. When she finally made an ace, she came back to the clubhouse weeping. She had been playing alone and it wasn't official.

DITHANE

... difference between fancy and cider apples

This zineb fungicide when used in late cover sprays is often the difference between run-of-the-mill and profitable, fine-finish fruit. That's why DITHANE Z-78 is recommended by Experiment Stations, preferred by growers in areas where rust, scab, and summer diseases are a problem.

Use DITHANE Z-78 in your late cover sprays and see how well it blocks the spread of diseases, shields apples from new infections, gives the fruit long-lasting protection. This last advantage is important: with DITHANE Z-78 in your late summer sprays your fruit can remain disease-free up to picking time and beyond. The reason is that the protective film of DITHANE Z-78 remains chemically intact a remarkably long time.

Use DITHANE Z-78 against rust, sooty blotch, Brooks spot, apple blotch, fly speck; black, Botryosphaeria, and bitter rot, and late season scab.

M.B.S. IS SOLD TO PACIFIC GROUP

NEW YORK (AP) — The Mutual Broadcasting System has been sold to a group of Pacific Coast businessmen and broadcasters for an undisclosed price.

Announcement of the sale was made Thursday, after widespread rumors that it was impending. Trade sources said the network, in existence since 1934, lost $400,000 last year.

During negotiations a sale price of somewhat over half a million dollars was reportedly discussed.

The purchasing group is headed by Paul Roberts of Los Angeles, who will take over as network president Aug. 7. B. J. Hauser, former Mutual vice president, will become executive vice president.

Roberts is general manager of KRKD-FM of Los Angeles.

The announcement said the wholly owned radio station of RKO Tele-Radio Pictures, Inc., Mutual's parent company, are not involved in the sale but remain as affiliates of the network.

These stations are in New York, Boston, Memphis, Los Angeles, San Francisco and Washington, D.C.

Mutual has 480 affiliated stations, but owns no stations itself. The new owners said future network plans and policies would be announced soon.

The Yankee and Don Lee regional networks, owned by RKO Tele-Radio Pictures, Inc., will continue as affiliates of the Mutual network.

253 Japs Dead In 29 Inches Of Rain

TOKYO (AP) — A violent storm which in 24 hours dumped 29 inches of rain on low-lying, thickly populated areas of Japan's southernmost major island left at least 253 persons dead today and more than 800 missing or unaccounted for.

There were 106 known injured. Relief workers in the area said the government casualty figures were conservative. They predicted the death toll would run into the thousands.

Tokyo newspaper correspondents radioed from the flood area on Kyushu Island that at least 1,000 persons died in the city of Isahaya, 15 miles northeast of Nagasaki, and that scores may have perished in Omura, a port a few miles away.

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican has eliminated the requirement for Roman Catholics to observe fast and abstinence on the vigil of the Feast of the Assumption.

Eisenhower not only didn't plug for the bill, he indirectly gave support to those who wanted to demolish it by letting it be known that, while he'd sign the bill if it passed, he wasn't satisfied with it.

The Republican majority tactics yesterday were like an encore of their act in 1956 when a similar bill was before the House:

First, they joined Northern Democrats in voting an antisegregation amendment into the bill— withholding federal money from segregated schools — and then switched over to join Southern Democrats in killing the measure altogether.

Was In Platform

Two of the three top Republicans in the House voted to kill the bill last year and again yesterday. They were Representatives Charles Halleck (Ind.), assistant Republican leader, and Leslie Arends (Ill.), Republican whip.

Rep. Joseph Martin (Mass.), the No. 1 republican in the House, voted for the bill yesterday as he did in 1956.

Eisenhower, since 1953, has repeatedly called for some kind of federal aid to get schools built. He has urged action both in his State of the Union messages and in special messages to Congress. The Republican campaign platform of 1956 called for federal aid to schools.

Only One With Chance

While the bill which went before the House this year was not exactly the kind Eisenhower wanted, it was the only one which had a chance of passage this year.

This is an example of how some help from Eisenhower might have saved the bill, if it only took the form of a brief message to the House or pressure on no more than three leading House Republicans: Halleck, Arends and Rep. Edward Rees (Kan.).

While the final vote to kill the bill was 208-203, during the roll call Rees voted for the bill. Before the final tally he changed his vote to "no." Rees is a veteran of 20 years in the House.

Acquitted Physician Admits Other Counts

LEWES, England (AP) — Dr. John Bodkin Adams pleaded guilty Friday to 14 of 16 charges of violating Britain's cremation, forgery, larceny and dangerous drug acts.

The balding, 58-year-old society physician faced a judge and jury for the second time in four months.

He was acquitted last April in London's Old Bailey Court of charges of drugging to death one of his wealthy patients, an 81-year-old widow, to benefit from her will.

Among the old time gold rush camps in Alaska, the flourishing cities of Fairbanks and Nome still have limited gold mining operations today.

Orrtanna

ORRTANNA — Mr. and Mrs. Richard Weaver, Hagerstown, Md., visited on Wednesday with the former's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Pepple and son Lowell.

Mrs. I. Z. Musselman, the Misses Kathryn Roth, Ann Musselman and Tynia Trembow spent Saturday at New Holland, Pa., where they attended the Rauk family reunion.

Mr. and Mrs. Appollo Trembow entertained at dinner on Sunday in observance of the birthday anniversary of their daughter, Tynia, on Sunday and the birthday anniversary of Mrs. Trembow's Mother, Mrs. Olida Stukan on Monday. Also present were Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Stocik brother-in-law and sister of Mr. Trembow.

Police said the two lower floors of the house were more than 70 years old and the government ordered them pulled down two years ago. Instead the owner challenged the order and added three more stories. The building was located on a lane six yards wide in the popular Dab el Ahmar residential district.

Women and children were among the dead and injured.

BEY OF TUNIS IS DETHRONED

TUNIS (AP) — The Tunisian cabinet resigned Friday to give newly named President Habib Bourguiba a free hand in charting the future of the republic proclaimed yesterday.

The cabinet's resignation came as Tunisia celebrated the dethronement of the bey of Tunis and the elevation of Bourguiba.

In lightning fashion Thursday the Constituent Assembly ousted Bey Sidi Mohammed al-Amin, proclaimed Tunisia a republic and elected Bourguiba president. Bourguiba, long a fighter against French rule, retained the premiership he had held.

In his first official gesture as president, Bourguiba invited the diplomatic corps to the bey's palace for a formal reception.

Wants To Unify 4 Nations

In taking on the presidency, the peppery little Tunisian moved into a front position in the North African and Arab worlds. The change was a boost for his ambition to unify Libya, Tunisia, Algeria and Morocco in a North African federation not dominated by Egyptian President Nasser.

Now Bourguiba can deal as an equal with Sultan Mohammed V of Morocco, who won his country's independence from France last year, and King Idriss of Libya.

Both rulers have reacted coolly to Bourguiba's ouster of the old bey, a brother monarch although he had been a French puppet for years. But that attitude is expected to change with time. Bourguiba told the Constituent Assembly there would be no reprisals against the deposed ruler or his family.

63 Killed When Building Collapses

CAIRO (AP) — A five-story building collapsed Thursday night on 200 persons celebrating a wedding, killing 63 and injuring 32.

Fatima, the veiled bride in a white wedding dress, was among those killed. Her bridegroom Mansour Abdel Hamid was seriously injured.

Police said the two lower floors of the house were more than 70 years old and the government ordered them pulled down two years ago. Instead the owner challenged the order and added three more stories. The building was located on a lane six yards wide in the popular Dab el Ahmar residential district.

Women and children were among the dead and injured.
